

Knits 204: Sleeveless Tops & Dresses Advanced Beginner

Sometimes all you want is a simple knit top without having to deal with sleeves. Learn to make a relaxed muscle tee and how adding binding and/or facings to a knit garment affects its ability to stretch. In class we will go over determining your size when using low stretch knit fabrics, how stretchy your stitches truly need to be and easy ways to hem knits.

The Max tee is a boxy knit top with a muscle tee shoulder shape and a dropped armhole. Choose between a cropped or hip length finished with hem facings. You have multiple neckline options that include a neck facing, rib neckband and a mock neckband.

The Square Neck Top is a boxy dolman sleeved top that is slightly cropped. In this class we will be making the knit version, however afterwards you will also have the skills to make a second version in woven fabric.

Know Me ME2130 is an oversized men's crew neck top with dropped shoulders and contrast at the neck and arm bands.

The Lodo is an elevated take on a basic t-shirt dress. It has a straight fit through the waist and hips and a slightly tapered hem to create a subtle cocoon shape. It has a V neck at the center front and an extended cap sleeve. Both the neckline and armholes are finished with a woven facing for stability and structure. Make it as a mid-calf or above the knee length dress or shorten it into a casual top.

Prerequisite: Knits 201A/201B or equivalent experience.
